Press Release

After following the progress of abandoned yearling, Tarzan throughout 2016, leading animal nutrition company Alltech are delighted to announce their support is to continue for another 12 months.

Alltech Continue to Follow the Progress of Tarzan

Tarzan was found severely underweight with a body condition score of 1. When nobody would claim responsibility, he was taken into the care of World Horse Welfare's Penny Farm Rescue and Rehoming Centre.

As a long standing supporter of the charity, Alltech were happy to help. During his time at the centre he has grown in confidence and learnt to trust humans.

After his initial rehabilitation, where he gained much needed weight, he began work with his groom Katie Grimshaw. Together they are working on the ground to improve his balance and co-ordination using pole work in walk. In an effort to help Tarzan with challenges he might face in a new home, Katie is using desensitisation techniques, and has yet to find much that fazes him. The pair can often be seen walking around the perimeter of the farm to expose Tarzan to different noises and traffic.

Katie is delighted with Tarzan's progress: "After such a tough start to life, Tarzan is beginning to take things in his stride and developing really well as a young horse."

Alltech has recently provided Tarzan with his very own rug, to keep him snug and dry this winter

UK Marketing Manager, Isla Baker-Browne said: "Alltech has long been associated with top level equestrian events but we also recognise that there are many horses and ponies that are not so fortunate.

"Equine Charities such as World Horse Welfare do a wonderful job and we are delighted to help them to raise awareness of the plight of horses both here and abroad.

“We can’t wait to see what the future holds for Tarzan and it would be amazing to think that he could possibly one day find a loving home.”

The Lifeforce Range of all-natural, daily digestive aid supplements from Alltech is designed to benefit horses of every stage of life, from breeding stock to pleasure and performance animals.
